

Help with Research at the University of Winnipeg Library: for undergraduate & collegiate students

Hi... I'm not sure where to start for my research. Can you please help me?

Of course! I'd be happy to help!

You can get help in a number of ways.

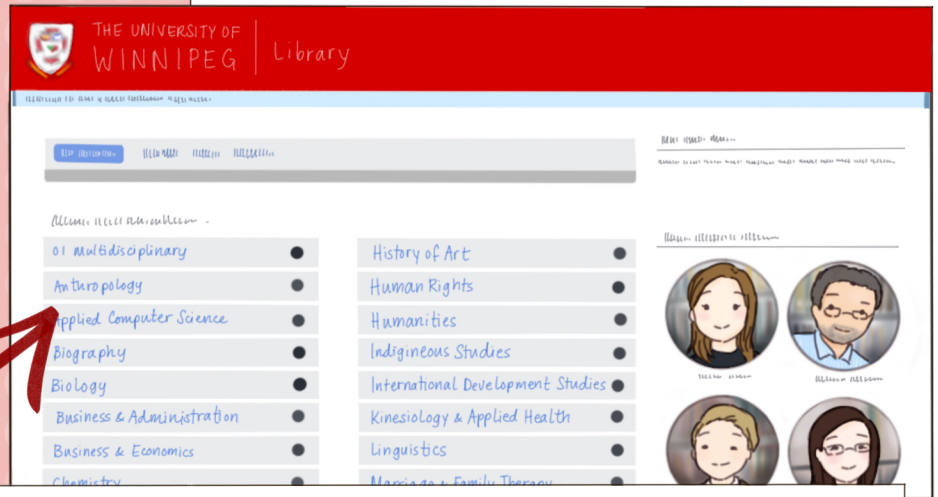

Visit

and click on

Help with Research

to get started!

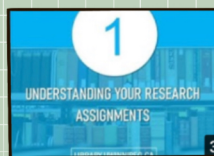

Our Research Guides are a good place to begin!

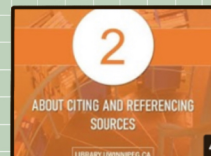

They can be accessed at any time, day or night, and include popular useful resources for each subject area.

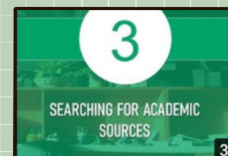

We also have video tutorials that cover topics like...

Planning Your Research

Citing and Referencing

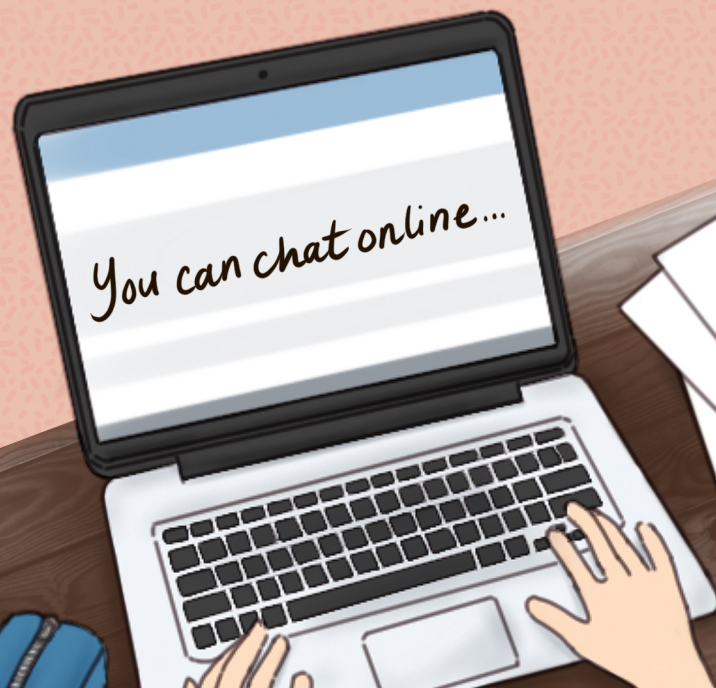

Searching for Sources

Many are available on our Youtube channel, @uwpglibrary

To get assistance from Library staff, Click on
'Talk to Someone'

(we have many ways to help you!)

You can make
an appointment,
send an email...

...or even
call us on the phone!

Use the way
to contact us that works
best for you!

Our online chat help is usually available during regular business hours. Check library.uwinnipeg.ca to find out when.

You can ask questions...

and get advice on how to find information!

You can also schedule a meeting!

Choose your subject area
and select a time that works for your schedule.

Meetings can happen in the library, over the phone, or on Zoom, where you can work together with a librarian to learn effective search strategies for your topic.

Remember – the library offers multiple ways
to help with your research.
